MICHAEL A. GERBER
INTERIM DEAN AND PROFESSOR OF LAW

June 2012

Dear Members of the Class of 2012:

On behalf of the faculty, administration, and staff, I want to congratulate you on your graduation from Brooklyn Law School. We know that the demands of law school have been immense, but that is precisely why you can take such pride in your achievement.

You are about to discover first-hand that, because you are a lawyer, you have enormous power to influence the course of private lives and public affairs. I am certain that you will exercise your influence with strength and grace, and with care and responsibility, because of who you are, and because of the training that began here at Brooklyn Law School.

Although you are graduating, you will continue to be members of the Brooklyn Law School family—a family spanning many generations—whose members can be found in law firms, government agencies, public interest law offices, and management suites across the country and around the world. There will be many “family gatherings” in the years to come, including class reunions, symposia, and social events. We look forward to seeing you at as many of them that your busy schedule will permit you to attend.

We wish you all the best,

Sincerely,

Michael A. Gerber

To the Graduating Class of 2012:

Congratulations! I am honored to join you in celebrating what we've each worked so hard for. This moment deserves recognition: we have distinguished ourselves intellectually, academically, and professionally. But let's not rest on our laurels, yet.

Law school has by no means been easy, but it was made easier as we got to know one another and were able to study, stress, relax, laugh, and unwind together. We were all first informally introduced with the laundry-list of our far-flung backgrounds read aloud at convocation. Now, we commence knowing the most recent item on everyone's CV: Brooklyn Law School Juris Doctor. But for those who spent hour after hour in 250 Joralemon Street, there's more to it than just a degree: during our time together we saw the finishing touches put on the magnificent Cohen lobby and student lounge, and who could forget the overhaul of the of the now granite-topped plaza? Scandal struck when Diesel's models pranced their way from our library stacks to the pages of the New York Post. We gained a much classier media outlet of our own with the launch of the independent student news site, The BLS Advocate. Bookstore vendors came and went, as if an update to BLSCConnect. Dean Wexler was promoted to President, an event unprecedented in Brooklyn Law School history and, of course we met and assessed candidates in subsequent dean searches while Interim Dean Gerber manned the helm. We welcomed distinguished visitors such as Attorney General of the United States Eric Holder and legendary musician George Clinton marked the loss of a former dean, Judge David Trager. And in between there were countless lectures, bar nights, student org events, interviews, internships, and fundraisers.

These events are behind us. We took them all in stride, and can hopefully say we made the most of our circumstances during the course of our time here. We emerge with fond memories and the personal and professional relationships we have forged. We enter the job market with an education that will serve as the foundation on which we will build our careers-- and while the economy remains uncertain, I feel assured from my encounters with the many passionate and dedicated members of this class that no amount of uncertainty will keep us from achieving our dreams and finding success. Whether your life's work is as a lawyer, judge, policy advocate, politician, or something altogether removed from the practice of law, I wish each of you the very best. Please, keep in touch.

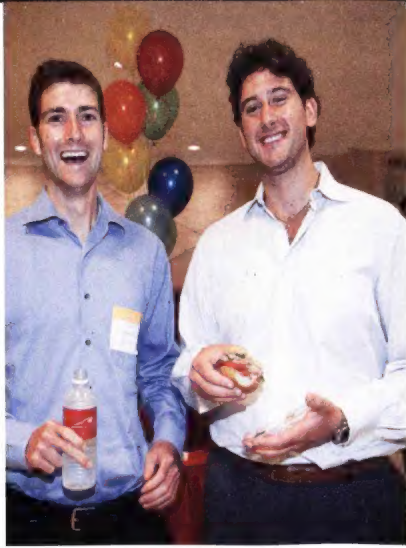

Yours truly,

In Memory of Professor Estella Schoen

Professor Estella Jane Schoen passed away on November 20, 2011 after a courageous battle against cancer. She was a beloved member of the Brooklyn Law School community, where she taught in the legal writing program from 2007 until 2010. I will remember her as a truly passionate teacher, with a no-nonsense style and sharp intellect, who cared deeply for the welfare of her students. Estella took great pride in giving every student her best, and expected no less from each of them.

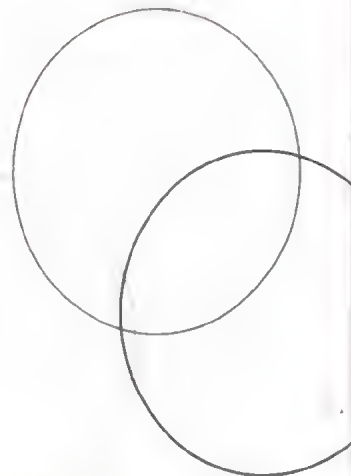

Estella's career before teaching showcased her astute legal judgment and desire to protect the rights of women, children and the disadvantaged. After clerking for the Honorable Harold Baer, Jr. of the Southern District of New York, she became an Associate at Patterson, Belknap, Webb and Tyler, where she successfully litigated a class action lawsuit against the MTA to allow thousands of disabled New Yorkers to access the subway system. After she left the firm, she became an advocate for children's rights, a passion she carried with her to the law school.

I was honored to get to know Estella's husband, Steve Sallett, and two daughters, Amelia, born in 2005, and Jessie, born in 2007, who were the center of her life. Although she loved teaching, she chose to leave her legal writing position in 2010 to spend more time with her daughters. I know how much that time meant to all of them. She was a dear friend and I will miss her deeply.

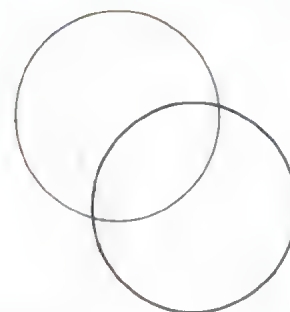

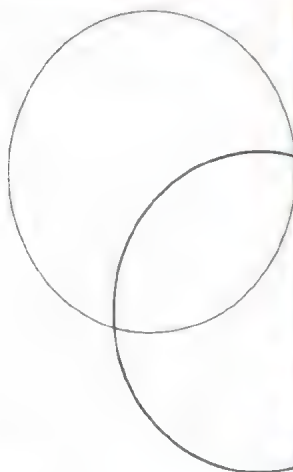

Joy Kanwar

Happy retirement, Professor
Richard Allan. Thank you for everything you have done for the Brooklyn Law School Community.

In Memory of Professor Michael Madow

"Michael Madow, who began teaching at Brooklyn Law School in 1987, inspired a generation of students in Media Law, First Amendment, and Criminal Law courses and in numerous thought-provoking seminars. Students flocked to his classes and were professionally and personally dazzled by his extraordinary teaching skills, his concern for his students, his brilliance, his wit, and his charm. The opportunity to have dinner with Professor Madow always engendered lively bidding at the BLSPI auction. Law school legend has it that one year, students bid up to $800 for the pleasure of his company. Prof. Madow's unwavering generosity toward all of his students was especially appreciated in the BLSPI and Edward V. Sparer Public Interest Fellowship community.

A true cinephile, Prof. Madow always was ready to watch a good film, the more obscure the better. And when he wasn't teaching or reading books -- often in the middle of three or more at a time -- he was enjoying family vacations in Italy, France, or Martha's Vineyard.

He will be deeply missed by his devoted family, his numerous friends, his students, and his colleagues."

"Professor Madow's dedication to his students was obvious from the first day of every class he taught. It was not about teaching for him, but about making his students learn. He had an intense generosity about him, a quality that was evident every time he walked a confused student through a difficult concept. His mind was not his to keep, but was there for his students to use to become better thinkers.

As his health declined, his dazzling lessons and obvious dedication to us masked his hardship. His love for teaching prevented him from giving in to his illness until the very last, and we all reaped the reward. Professor Madow was responsible for the creation of thousands of legal minds, and his memory will live on in us forever."
